

Basic English vocabulary (word list) artificial → made by humans, not natural intelligence → ability to think, learn, and understand narrow → limited or specific general → broad, not limited super → very high or beyond normal symbolic → using symbols or rules subsymbolic → based on patterns, not symbols machine → a device that does work learning → gaining knowledge or skills supervised → guided or controlled learning unsupervised → learning without guidance reinforcement → strengthening through reward or punishment neural → related to nerves or brain cells network → connected system of things deep → having many layers or complex data → information mining → searching for useful information in data natural → existing in nature language → system of communication (words, speech) processing → handling or analyzing information computer → electronic machine for processing data vision → ability to see chatbot → program that talks with people predictive → able to say what will happen in the future maintenance → keeping something in good condition generative → able to create something new algorithmic → based on step-by-step rules (algorithms) bias → unfair preference or influence adversarial → opposing or attacking